A CHAT!

With Hon. Joe McDonald at Chicago.

He Talks National Politics and Gives His Views on the Hoosier State Affairs.

The Kentucky Mountain Bandits Have a Fight and the Leaders are Dead.

TALK WITH TRAVELERS.

Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana Freely on National Politics.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, is at the Palmer. He comes to Chicago to be present at the final decree on the foreclosing of the mortgage of the Lake Erie and Western railway. Speaking in reference to the talk of his being offered a place in the cabinet, he said that he did not think the president intended to make any change in the cabinet, and that the talk was only rumor. Mr. Cleveland had no desire to change, and entertained a strong hope that Secretary Manning would recover his health. He had no idea that Mr. Garland thought of resigning or that the president had any desire that he should. There was no use of talking of Morrison for a cabinet place, as no change was liable to occur. He said: "The democrats of Indiana are not favorable to what is called the civil service policy, but they are not making any particular fight against it, and are certainly not inclined to find fault with the president for enforcing a law he finds in the statute books; that there is a necessity for a reform of our civil service is admitted by both parties. As it is now it is eventually establishing in the government an official class, and the democrats of Indiana do not favor it." He thinks that no offices in the cabinet or appointed by President Cleveland have endeavored to act adverse to Cleveland's policy. He believes Cleveland and Blaine would be the party nominees if the conventions were to be held this year, but two years may make a change. Relative to the prohibitionists, he says: "In Indiana it is too early to state what the vote of the prohibitionists will be. They have made up a strong organization for the campaign. Certain things may transpire with the other parties by which votes will be drawn from the prohibitionists as they are inclined to one or the other having been either republicans or democrats. When the parties come out and the campaign fairly opens then it will be time to see their effect. The prohibition movement appears to be growing rapidly in some sections, but I do not think that the sentiment is as strong in Indiana as it was four years ago. On the contrary, in the south and southwestern states it is growing, and is now a powerful political element. Prohibition will become an accomplished fact when the millennium sets in. Where prohibition can be enforced it is not needed."

MOUNTAIN BANDITS

Fight and the Leaders are Shot Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 24.—Particulars of a mountain fight at Hazard, Ky., between the French and Eversole factions has just been received. The Eversole party were outnumbered, taken by surprise and retreated after a revolver fight of several minutes, resulting in the killing of one of the French party and wounding of three others. In a subsequent engagement French and Eversole are said to have both been killed.

GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN

Writes a Letter to Say He Will Not Attend the Tri-State Reunion Here.

The promoters of the Tri-State Veteran reunion must call a halt. The Sentinel does not object to this project, but it does object to humbugging and misrepresenting the affair. Suppose hundreds of people are attracted here from northern Indiana and the country about us to see Gen. John A. Logan and Col. Bob Ingersoll. The gentlemen will not be here and the result is that visitors go away cursing us and feeling that they have been victimized. No attraction on earth can ever get them back again and the business of Fort Wayne is permanently hurt.

They advertise Gen. John A. Logan and here is a letter from that distinguished gentleman, saying he will not come to Fort Wayne:

SENATE CHAMBER,

WASHINGTON,

July 9, '86.

J. W. YOUNGE, ESQ.:
My DEAR SIR:
Your favor is received. I will not return from California in time to attend tri-state veteran reunion August 23. I regret sincerely that it will not be possible for me to meet with you this year.
Yours Very Truly,
JOHN A. LOGAN.

SIXTY-TON ENGINES.

The Altoona Shops Get an Order That Eclipses the Fort Wayne Works.

There is much rivalry between the shops of the Pittsburg road at Fort Wayne and Altoona, and when the shops here were awarded the class "I" engines there was great rejoicing. Now the Pennsylvania Railroad company has sent in to its shops at Altoona, Pa., an order for sixty locomotives of class "R," the largest engines that are made. Last summer it gave an order for six of these locomotives, but only two were completed. The company has been experimenting with those two engines for several months, mostly in the Altoona yards, and finding them entirely satisfactory, has ordered the remaining four completed, besides the large order of sixty. Their weight will average 120,000 pounds each, whereas the moguls, or "Class I," built at Fort Wayne and the largest engines heretofore constructed, weighed only from 95,000 to 105,000 pounds. It is expected that the new engines can draw from fifteen to twenty per cent. more than the moguls, and it is the purpose of the Pennsylvania railroad company to introduce them generally on the heavy mountain grades.

THE PARTY VOICE.

Harmony Must Prevail in Democratic Districts

In reference to existing difficulties in the various congressional districts of the state, the following was unanimously adopted by the democratic state central committee:

Whereas, Dissensions exist in certain congressional districts of this state, and the state central committee, as at present organized, being without authority to act in the premises,

Resolved, That the subject be referred to the state convention to take such steps as may be deemed wise and just to secure harmony and unity of action in said districts, or in such of them as may have not adjusted such dissensions prior to the assembling of the state convention.

The above resolutions embody sentiments which tend directly toward democratic success this fall, and in which every true democrat cannot but heartily concur.

RILED!

Texas People are Mad at Mexico,

And Threaten Vengeance Because an American Editor is Held a Captive Down There.

An Attempt to Remove Democrats as Offensive Partisans—A Conspiracy.

THE SOUTHWEST.

The News From Texas is Exciting.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Dispatches from Fort Worth and other points in Texas, published here this morning, state that the most intense excitement prevails throughout Texas, in consequence of the action of the Mexican authorities in detaining Editor Cutting, of El Paso, despite the repeated demands made for his release by the United States minister at the City of Mexico, and Consul Brigan at El Paso.

DALLAS, Texas, July 24.—A movement is on foot to have United States Marshal Cabell and Postmaster and Deputy Revenue Collector Miers, both democrats, removed from office on the ground of offensive partisanship.

THE MILITIA.

Prospects of the State Encampment at Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 24.—Adjutant General Koontz has about completed every arrangement looking to the success of the coming great encampment next week. Some military will arrive to-day, and all of the thousands promised will put in an appearance Monday. The camp grounds are in splendid condition, the citizens are making ready the city, and General Koontz and his assistants are most hopeful touching the great event. What adds much to the affair is the fact that on Wednesday Barnum's great show will exhibit three times on the grounds, the proceeds to be divided with the military. For this the boys are indebted to General Koontz, who, for the space of one day, is the greatest showman on earth—greater than Barnum.

THE MINERS

Are Talking of a Strike at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, July 24.—Trouble on a large scale is brewing among the miners and a general strike is possible. For some weeks past there has been a general strike of railroad miners, especially along the line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. This has extended and there is every possibility that the Monongahela river miners will soon be out.

A QUEER MURDER.

Killed a Man With His Fist at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Jacob Byers gave himself up this morning. He is the man who quarreled with John J. Henry yesterday and struck Henry in the chest with his fist, knocking him down. Henry died while being taken to the county hospital. It supposed that Henry had heart disease.

A Soldier Dies.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Brigadier General Benjamin Barney, a Mexican veteran and ex-president of the society of the Army of the Potomac died suddenly at his residence in this city last evening.

The Anarchist Trial.

CHICAGO, July 24.—The usual crowd was present at the anarchist's trial this morning. The testimony was mainly directed towards identifying the revenge circular. One witness, James G. Miller, an attorney, testified he heard Fielden make an address advocating the use of force by labor in gaining what was withheld from them by the rich.

Brutal Murder.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 24.—A brutal murder was committed this morning at the Leomis furniture factory, the victim being Joseph Teste, who was killed by James Hill. The difficulty grew out of a trivial matter. Hill escaped.

Suffering From Drought.

ELKHART, Ind., July 24.—Rain has not fallen here for six weeks, and in consequence the drought is becoming terrible. Potatoes and corn are so badly affected that they will be an almost entire failure. Farmers are becoming very much discouraged, as the ground is so dry that they are unable to plow and get ready for their fall sowing. The outlook at present is certainly the most gloomy they have experienced in a number of years.

PETER SHELL

Rides from Fort Wayne on the Limited Trucks.

PITTSBURG, July 24.—Peter Shell, a young man, arrived here yesterday on the truck of a Pullman sleeper attached to the New York and Chicago limited express, having ridden from Fort Wayne in that way. He says that he was en route to Washington to see his mother, who was seriously ill.

A subscription was started by the passengers which netted quite a sum, and after a breakfast he was started on his way to Washington in a Pullman car. The distance between Pittsburg and Fort Wayne is 320 miles, the limited making but four stops.

LOCAL LINES.

The four year old son of Julius Biegel, of Harmer street, died this morning of scarlet fever.

At Richmond sixty-five men are employed on the new insane asylum, and at Logansport 150.

Mrs. Catherine Stegmeyer died this morning at the city hospital, aged fifty years. She is the wife of Jacob Stegmeyer, of McCulloch street.

Master Mechanic Casanova, Foreman Barney Fitzpatrick, Road Foreman A. H. Polhamus and Engine Foreman Johnson, of the Pittsburg, accompanied the modified class "I" engine to Crestline this morning.

Hon. Martin Krenger, of Michigan City, is here interviewing democrats as to his chance for a place on the state ticket. Mr. Krenger has a host of warm friends here and can expect a strong support from Allen county.

PITTSBURG Chronicle-Telegraph: The special agent of the Eastern Insurance Company, was in the city the other day, and was giving some anecdotes of experiences in various parts of Pennsylvania. "I was in Tamqua not long ago," said the agent, "and I was told that the town had a new fire engine, and had provided a first-class team and all the essentials of a good department. The local insurance men congratulated themselves on the arrival of the machine, and on the prompt service it would render in the future. They asked me to go and see the engine, and I went. Just as we got to the door of the engine-house there was an alarm of fire. We found the horses hitched and the men standing around. The engineer didn't seem to be in a hurry to get out, and after a few minutes I said: 'Wasn't that an alarm of fire?' 'I guess it was,' said the engineer. 'Why don't you get out, then?' 'Get out with this engine! Why, I spent three hours cleaning it up, and shining the brass yesterday, and you don't suppose I'm such a blame fool as to take it out in all this mud, do you?'"

The attention of a policeman of Leith was attracted one night recently by a sizable brook of port wine, which flowed from the gate of a large warehouse into a neighboring sewer. Making sure it was good wine and worth saving, the policeman aroused the warehouse manager, and it was found that a large vat had burst its hoops, permitting 1,200 gallons of wine to run out upon the floor, which was flooded to the depth of several inches. Assistance was called in, and some 200 gallons were ladled up and saved, but 1,000 gallons ran away.

A PLAN!

To Settle the Wabash Muddle.

The Bondholders to Pay $5 a Bond for a Scheme to Relieve the Fort Wayne Line.

Lord Salisbury is After the Queen's Command to Form a British Cabinet.

THE WABASH.

A Plan for the Bondholders Proposed.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The Romaine committee of the first mortgage bondholders of the Wabash system, east of the Mississippi, have prepared an agreement which they ask the bondholders to sign. By it Frederick N. Lawrence, Benjamin F. Romaine, and Edward Oathout are appointed as a committee with power to take legal proceedings to compel the payment of interest not in default or foreclose mortgages. An assessment of $5 per bond will be levied on all bonds deposited under the agreement.

LORD SALISBURY.

He Goes for a Command to Form a Cabinet.

LONDON, July 24.—Lord Salisbury called upon Lord Hartington this morning and held an hour's conference with him. Lord Hartington promised Lord Salisbury a friendly support, but declined to join the conservative government.

Lord Salisbury at 11:30 this morning started for Osborne to receive the Queen's command to form a government.

A MISTAKE.

Senator Voorhees Will Not Resign His Seat.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A somewhat sensational story was sent out from here to an alleged newspaper at the west a few nights ago to the effect that Senator Voorhees was seriously contemplating a resignation from the senate and intended remaining in New York, where he had formed a law partnership with Colonel R. G. Ingersoll, and was to retire from public life altogether. The story really needs no denial, for it is too silly for belief, and an inquiry from the senator would have demonstrated the falsity of the rumor. There is not a word of truth in it. He has never thought of resigning from the senate and by no means has he ever entertained the thought of taking up his residence in New York. He will not leave Indiana, and if Indiana could be consulted she would not give up her honored Voorhees.

Indian Commissioner Atkins was again before the special committee of the senate this morning and was cross-examined by the chairman. The commissioner, in his replies, repeated with great frankness his avowals that he had appointed personal and political friends to traderships in some instances and believed the law gave him sole charge in the matter of appointments to traderships, being in this regard independent of either the president or secretary of the interior.

A special committee of republican senators held a caucus this morning in a room of the finance committee, to further consider the surplus resolution. No determination as to the form in which it shall be reported, if reported at all, was reached.

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1886.
DEMOCRATIC TICKET.
For Congress, 12th District,
HON. ROBERT LOWRY, of Allen.

NORRISTOWN Herald: A Welch poet has written some verses on the Nicolini-Patti wedding. Here is an extract: "Llanwr ynwyne hen gwionawo a cherddorol dan." These be hard, but they may be deserved, considering the way I atti and Nicolini have been "carrying on" for some years. Patti is "no chicken," but it is rather ungallant to call her a "wynwes hen."

"BUCK" GRANT was interviewed by a Denver reporter the other day, and asked how he came by the nickname. The explanation was simple. When the Grant family moved from Ohio to Missouri he was a little boy, and some one called him, in joke, "The Little Buckeye." The name stuck, but in the process of time "the little" and "eye" were dropped, and the name as it now stands remained.

DR. MARY WALKER, while traveling on a Connecticut railway, alighted from the cars for a little exercise, and becoming indignant at a man whose cigar burned too close to her face, struck the cigar from his mouth. Not being recognized by him, a fight was imminent for a time. The gamins found out who she was, and she was hooted to the car, from the window of which she lectured the entire crowd.

The editor of the Valley Falls Register, of Kansas, shows a properly thankful and devout spirit in the following paragraph: "Our receipts being reduced, the editor arose with the sun Monday morning, and with his little pop sent a bullet crashing through a fine rabbit sent us by the hand of Him who seeth the sparrow fall, and meat became plenty in our larder. There was joy in our household, and fresh meat plenty once more."

CAVALRY regiments in the Prussian army are being carefully drilled in the art of swimming their horses across rivers. At the word "Dismount!" the soldiers divest themselves of their clothing, which, with their weapons, etc., is placed upon a raft, which is swiftly ferried across the river, while the men take the horses by the head with one hand, and swim with the other. The feat is said to be performed with the utmost precision and rapidity; whole regiments crossing and recrossing in an astonishingly short time.

THE Hoang River, in China, is more troublesome than our erratic Mississippi. Nine instances are on record of its making a complete change of course. It has moved its mouth from South to North over four degrees of latitude, leaving many sandy wastes and shallow lakes where populous plains had existed. Engineers have been much interested in the question whether these disastrous overflows and changes of the river bed can be checked. They have been convinced for some years of the feasibility of keeping the river's erratic tendencies within limits, and in the course of human progress "China's sorrow" may some day be robbed of its terrors.

The Poor Little Ones.
We often see children with red eruptions on face and hands, rough, scaly skin and often sores on the head. These things indicate a depraved condition of the blood. In the growing period, children have need of pure blood by which to build up strong and healthy bodies. If Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is given, the blood is purged of its bad elements, and the child's development will be healthy, and as it should be. Scrofulous affections, rickets, fever-sores, hip-joint disease or other grave maladies and sufferings are sure to result from neglect and lack of proper attention to such cases.

The North Vernon fair opens Tuesday, August 10.

Is Your Liver out of Order.
Then is your whole system deranged—the blood is impure, the breath offensive, you have a headache, feel languid, dispirited and nervous, have no appetite, your sleep is troubled and unrefreshing. To prevent a more serious condition, take at once a half tablespoonful of Simmons' Liver Regulator, three times a day—it will soon restore the healthy action of the liver, bowels and kidneys.
"I recommend Simmons' Liver Regulator to all my friends, as I have personally known it to cure all liver disorders and sick headaches." A. MERRITT, Beverly, N. J.

They are Not sorry.
There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

THIRTY-FIVE business men who daily travel between Boston and Falmouth, on the Old Colony Road, by paying $100 each in addition to the regular fare have secured the exclusive services of a train that is said to make the fastest time in America. The journey usually required three hours, but "The Flying Dude," as the boys call it, can do it in one hour and ten minutes.

In Eastern Ontario a youthful, slim-looking constable, armed with a warrant from a justice of the peace, presented himself before the intended prisoner, who happened to be of much more formidable proportions than the "limb of the law." The constable and the prisoner set out together, and after traveling some miles of the twenty-five or thereabouts they had to go, the constable gave out, utterly unable to proceed further; but the prisoner kept on, safely arriving at the house of the judge some six hours ahead of the constable.

Hay Fever.
I have been a great sufferer from hay fever for fifteen years, and have tried various things without doing any good. I read of the many wonderful cures of Ely's Cream Balm, and thought I would try once more. In fifteen minutes after one application I felt wonderfully helped. Two weeks ago I commenced using it, and now I feel entirely cured. It is the greatest discovery ever known or heard of.—Duhamel Clark, Farmer Lee, Mass.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jan. 19-codawl.

DYSPEPSIA

Causes its victims to be miserable, hopeless, confused, and depressed in mind, very irritable, languid, and drowsy. It is a disease which does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy to throw off the causes and tone up the digestive organs till they perform their duties willingly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven just the required remedy in hundreds of cases.
"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for dyspepsia, from which I have suffered two years. I tried many other medicines, but none proved so satisfactory as Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOMAS COOK, Brush Electric Light Co., New York City.

Sick Headache

"For the past two years I have been afflicted with severe headaches and dyspepsia. I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have found great relief. I cheerfully recommend it to all." Mrs. E. F. ANNABLE, New Haven, Conn.

THE DETROITS,

THE LEADING CLUB IN OUR GREAT
NATIONAL GAME.

Portraits of "Deacon" White and the Rest of the "Big Four"—The Pitchers
of the "Pretzel" Curve and the Left-Handed Pitcher.

The great interest in our national game
centers this season in the Detroit (Mich.)
baseball club, who now leads in the race for the championship of the National league, which includes the present champions, the Chicago, also clubs from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, St. Louis and Kansas City.

The Detroit club now consists of fourteen men, who are said to be the strongest combination of players and heaviest bat-men ever brought together. The organization created considerable of a stir last fall by buying out the Buffalo club and retaining four of the best players, Brouters, White, Richardson and Rowe, now famous as the big four. Much of the success of the present nine is due to this quartet.

No player in the country is better known
than Dennis Brouters, their first base-man, who stands six feet
two inches high, and
weighs 207 pounds.

He was born at Sylvan Lake, N. Y.,
twenty-eight years
ago. He began playing ball in 1876 with the Active, of Wap-
pinger Falls, N. Y.,
as a pitcher. In 1878
he filled the same position for the Stotts-
ville, of Stottsville, N. Y. April 1879, he started in to pitch for the Haymakers, of Lansingburg. The club disbanded May 30. He then entered the National league as first base and change
pitcher for the Troy City club, playing out the season. In 1880 he began the season with the Baltimore club, which disbanded in June. Then he took a dose of Hop Bitters as first base-man. That club threw up in July, and he went back to the Troys,
playing the remainder of the season of 1880.
Although making a fair pitcher, he was more effective in other positions, and he gave up twirling. He signed with Brooklyn as right fielder in 1881. But May 30 left that city and went to Buffalo as left fielder, playing fifty games in that position. Then he took first base and kept it up to the time
the "Big Four" went to Detroit.

James L. White, or "Deacon White," is a name famous in baseball history. He was born at Canton, N. Y., Dec. 2, 1848. He stands
five feet eleven inches,
and weighs 170 pounds.
His baseball career
has been checked and interesting. He first played with a club
at Canton, N. Y., in 1866, and then with the Monitor club, of Coring, N. Y., in 1867. In 1868 he was with the Forest City, of Cleveland. The following year that team became a professional club, and White played with them during the seasons of 1869, 1870, 1871 and 1872. He went to Boston and remained during 1873, 1874 and 1875. In the centennial year he, with Spalding, Barnes and McVey, transferred themselves to Chicago, being the first big four. They staid in the Garden City that season, but returned to Boston and played in 1877. In WHITE, JR.

1878-79 the Cincinnati (League) club had his services. He took a rest during the first part of 1880, but went to Cincinnati in August and finished the season. In 1881 he joined the Buffalo club, and did great work
for them until he left them for Detroit.
The deacon is said to figure as a Sunday school teacher or superintendent during the winter months, but it does not seem to injure him as a ball player any.

Harding Richardson, another of the "Big Four," is as good an all-round player as there is in the country.
He has filled every position in the in and outfield, besides pitching and catching. He was born in Carls-boro, N. J., in 1853, is five feet eight and one-half inches high and
weighs 178 pounds.

His first work on the diamond was with the Gougeon City (N. J.) club, in 1875, as third base and change pitcher. He joined the Crickets of Binghamton, N. Y., in July, 1876, and played there until 1878, when he signed with the Utica (N. Y.) club and won the Copper gold medal for best general field work. In 1879 he went to Buffalo, staying there until the exodus to Detroit.

Another of the quartet is John C. Rowe, who was born near Harrisburg, Pa., in 1857.
He is 5 feet 8 1/2 inches high, and weighs 170 pounds. He first appeared at Janesville, Ws., in 1877, finishing the season at Milwaukee.
In 1878 he played in Peoria; in 1879 at Rockford, Ill., from
there going to Bufflo,
where he remained until the change to

Detroit.

Sam Thompson, the right fielder, is a Hoosier by birth, and has developed most astonishing hitting ability. He is six feet
two inches high, and
weighs 207 pounds. He was born at Danville, Ind., in 1860, and
played his first game
in 1883, as first base-
man with a local team.
He was with the Evansville in 1884,
and in Indianapolis
the following season,
going to Detroit in the fall, when that city
purchased the former aggregation.

Charles B. Baldwin, the left-handed pitcher, first made his appearance at Grand Rapids in 1883. He did not make a success, and the following year again tried his luck
at Milwaukee. He was much more effective than at Grand Rapids, and last season went to Detroit.
He was born at Or-
mel, Allegheny county, N. Y., April 10, 1859. He stands five feet eleven inches in the box, and puts 170
pounds of force on every in-shoot. He contented himself with puzzling ambitious
batsmen at Hastings,
Mich., during the period from 1879 to 1883, but in 1884 he signed for more victims to strike out, and went to Milwaukee, where he stayed until Detroit captured him.

BALDWIN, P.

RICHARDSON, 2B.

Charles Bennett, the leading catcher, has been before the public as a player for a decade. He was born at New Castle, Pa., and stands five feet eleven inches. He began playing with the Neshannocks, of New Castle, Pa., in 1874,
and continued throughout the latter part of 1876 as third baseman and catcher, when he went to Detroit and joined the Etinas, at that time a semi-professional club, the rivalry between it and the Cus club being intense. In 1877-78 he caught for the Milwau-kees, and 1879-80 played with the Worcester League team. The Worcester people, not understanding his value allowed him to slip, and he again signed with Detroit in 1881, where he has been ever since.

Edward Hanlon, the center fielder, is noted for wondrous running capabilities.
He is a very fleet base runner and a great cause of worry to catchers. He is 27
years old and is a New England by birth.
He made his debut
with the Rhode Island
club, of Providence
and joined the Rochester (N. Y.) team in 1878
as third base-man. Subsequently he went to Albany, being a member of that city's famous crew in 1879. Next he joined Cleveland, in 1881, and a year later he transferred himself to Detroit.

Charles G. Zinn, one of the pitchers, is a native of Chicago and is 22 years old. He first came into prominence with the Grand Rapids (Mich.) team,
in 1882, playing there
two years. He joined the Detroit in August, 1884, and has done
good work for them
since. He has great endurance, and has participated successfully in numerous double inning games. The Chicago's describe the course of the ball
from his hand to their bats as a "pretzel curve."

Ganzell, the now famous catcher of the club has had a curious career. He was engaged by the Philadelphia club but was allowed to leave them
on account of his incompetency. He then joined the Detroit and has since proved a phenomenal catcher.

Our engravings are
from photos by Tomlinson, of Detroit, and we are indebted to the Cincinnati Graphic for sketches of the men.

Thin, Languid, Dull
Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressing effects of warm weather and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength and energy.

Monon is digging for gas.

In Berlin, says the Pall Mall Gazette,
there is an association of theological students bearing the name of "Wingol-ites" which has for years observed the Wednesday before Ascension Day the curious custom of diving for the Emperor's destiny. The way of doing this is unique. The members of the association proceed from Berlin to the village of Pichelswerder on the Havel,
and here they celebrate the anniversary of the guild at the Wilhelmshoe resaurant. They immediately climb up an oak tree in the center of the garden
and seat themselves upon the branches.
Beer is handed up from the ground,
and after the third glass has been drained the President delivers the anniversary speech, after which a cheer is given to the Emperor. Then, at the word of command, all glasses are hurled to the ground, and the notion is that the Emperor will live as many years as there are broken glasses. This year twelve glasses were broken, so that the Emperor should yet be a centenarian.

INTERESTING TO ALL ATHLETES.—What

tories over W. G. George, the celebrated English runner, at Madison Square Garden, New York City:

A CHAT!

With Hon. Joe McDonald at Chicago.

He Talks National Politics and Gives His Views on the Hoosier State Affairs.

The Kentucky Mountain Bandits Have a Fight and the Leaders are Dead.

TALK WITH TRAVELERS.

Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana Freely on National Politics.

Chicago, July 24.—Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, is at the Palmer. He comes to Chicago to be present at the final decree on the foreclosing of the mortgage of the Lake Erie and Western railway. Speaking in reference to the talk of his being offered a place in the cabinet, he said that he did not think the president intended to make any change in the cabinet, and that the talk was only rumor. Mr. Cleveland had no desire to change, and entertained a strong hope that Secretary Manning would recover his health. He had no idea that Mr. Garland thought of resigning or that the president had any desire that he should. There was no use of talking of Morrison for a cabinet place, as no change was liable to occur. He said: "The democrats of Indiana are not favorable to what is called the civil service policy, but they are not making any particular fight against it, and are certainly not inclined to find fault with the president for enforcing a law he finds in the statute books; that there is a necessity for a reform of our civil service is admitted by both parties. As it is now it is eventually establishing in the government an official class, and the democrats of Indiana do not favor it." He thinks that no offices in the cabinet or appointed by President Cleveland have endeavored to act adverse to Cleveland's policy. He believes Cleveland and Blaine would be the party nominees if the conventions were to be held this year, but two years may make a change. Relative to the prohibitionists, he says: "In Indiana it is too early to state what the vote of the prohibitionists will be. They have made up a strong organization for the campaign. Certain things may transpire with the other parties by which votes will be drawn from the prohibitionists as they are inclined to one or the other having been either republicans or democrats. When the parties come out and the campaign fairly opens then it will be time to see their effect. The prohibition movement appears to be growing rapidly in some sections, but I do not think that the sentiment is as strong in Indiana as it was four years ago. On the contrary, in the south and southwestern states it is growing, and is now a powerful political element. Prohibition will become an accomplished fact when the millennium sets in. Where prohibition can be enforced it is not needed."

MOUNTAIN BANDITS

Fight and the Leaders are Shot Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 24.—Particulars of a mountain fight at Hazard, Ky., between the French and Eversole factions has just been received. The Eversole party were outnumbered, taken by surprise and retreated after a revolver fight of several minutes, resulting in the killing of one of the French party and wounding of three others. In a subsequent engagement French and Eversole are said to have both been killed.

GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN

Writes a Letter to Say He Will Not Attend the Tri-State Reunion Here.

The promoters of the Tri-State Veteran reunion must call a halt. The sentiment does not object to this project, but it does object to humbugging and misrepresenting the affair. Suppose hundreds of people are attracted here from northern Indiana and the country about us to see Gen. John A. Logan and Col. Bob Ingersoll. The gentlemen will not be here and the result is that visitors go away cursing us and feeling that they have been victimized. No attraction on earth can ever get them back again and the business of Fort Wayne is permanently hurt.

They advise Gen. John A. Logan and here is a letter from that distinguished gentleman, saying he will not come to Fort Wayne:

SENATE CHAMBER, WASHINGTON, July 9, '86.

J. W. YOUNGE, ESQ.:

My Dear Sir: I will not return from California in time to attend tri-state veteran reunion August 23. I regret sincerely that it will not be possible for me to meet with you this year. Yours Very Truly, JOHN A. LOGAN.

SIXTY-TON ENGINES.

The Altoona Shops Get an Order That Eclipses the Fort Wayne Works.

There is much rivalry between the shops of the Pittsburg road at Fort Wayne and Altoona, and when the shops here were awarded the class "T" engines there was great rejoicing. Now the Pennsylvania Railroad company has sent in to its shops at Altoona, Pa., an order for sixty locomotives of class "R," the largest engines that are made. Last summer it gave an order for six of these locomotives, but only two were completed. The company has been experimenting with these two engines for several months, mostly in the Altoona yards, and finding them entirely satisfactory, has ordered the remaining four completed, besides the large order of sixty. Their weight will average 120,000 pounds each, whereas the moguls, or "Class I," built at Fort Wayne and the largest engines heretofore constructed, weighed only from 95,000 to 105,000 pounds. It is expected that the new engines can draw from fifteen to twenty per cent. more than the moguls, and it is the purpose of the Pennsylvania railroad company to introduce them generally on the heavy mountain grades.

THE PARTY VOICE.

Harmony Must Prevail in Democratic Districts

In reference to existing difficulties in the various congressional districts of the state, the following was unanimously adopted by the democratic state central committee:

Whereas, Discussions exist in certain congressional districts of this state, and the state central committee, as at present organized, being without authority to act in the premises,

Resolved, That the subject be referred to the state convention to take such steps as may be deemed wise and just to secure harmony and unity of action in said districts, or in such of them as may have not adjusted such discussions prior to the assembling of the state convention.

The above resolutions embody sentiment which tend directly toward democratic success this fall, and in which every true democrat cannot but heartily concur.

THE MILITIA.

Prospects of the State Encampment at Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 24.—Adjutant General Koonitz has about completed every arrangement looking to the success of the coming great encampment next week. Some military will arrive to-day, and all of the thousands promised will put in an appearance Monday. The camp grounds are in splendid condition, the citizens are making ready the city, and General Koonitz and his assistants are most hopeful touching the great event. What adds much to the affair is the fact that on Wednesday Barnum's great show will exhibit three times on the grounds, the proceeds to be divided with the military. For this the boys are indebted to General Koonitz, who, for the space of one day, is the greatest showman on earth—greater than Barnum.

THE MINERS

Are Talking of a Strike at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, July 24.—Trouble on a large scale is brewing among the miners and a general strike is possible. For some weeks past there has been a general strike of railroad miners, especially along the line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. This has extended and there is every possibility that the Monongahela river miners will soon be out.

The outlook at present is certainly the most gloomy they have experienced in a number of years.

PETER SHELL.

Ridden from Fort Wayne on the Limited Trucks.

PITTSBURG, July 24.—Peter Shell, a young man, arrived here yesterday on the truck of a Pullman sleeper attached to the New York and Chicago limited express, having ridden from Fort Wayne in that way. He says that he was en route to Washington to see his mother, who was seriously ill.

A subscription was started by the passengers which netted quite a sum, and after a breakfast he was started on his way to Washington in a Pullman car. The distance between Pittsburg and Fort Wayne is 320 miles, the limited making but four stops.

Hon. Martin Krenger, of Michigan City, is here interviewing democrats as to his chances for a place on the state ticket. Mr. Krenger has a host of warm friends here and can expect a strong support from Allen county.

PITTSBURG Chronicle - Telegraph: The special agent of the Eastern Insurance Company, was in the city the other day, and was giving some anecdotes of experiences in various parts of Pennsylvania. "I was in Tamaqua long ago," said the agent, "and I was told that the town had a new fire-engine, and had provided a first-class team and all the essentials of a good department. The local insurance men congratulated themselves on the arrival of the machine, and on the prompt service it would render in the future. They asked me to go and see the engine, and I went. Just as we got to the door of the engine-house there was an alarm of fire. We found the horses hitched and the men standing around. The engineer didn't seem to be in a hurry to get out, and after a few minutes I said: 'Wasn't that an alarm of fire?' 'I guess it was,' said the engineer. 'Why don't you get out, then?' 'Get out with this engine! Why, I spent three hours cleaning it up, and shining the brass yesterday, and you don't suppose I'm such a blame fool as to take it out in all this mud, do you?'

The attention of a policeman of Leith was attracted one night recently by a sizable brook of port wine, which flowed from the gate of a large warehouse into a neighboring sewer. Making sure it was good wine and worth saving, the policeman aroused the warehouse manager, and it was found that a large vat had burst its hoops, permitting 1,200 gallons of wine to run out upon the floor, which was flooded to the depth of several inches. Assistance was called in, and some 200 gallons were ladled up and saved, but 1,000 gallons ran away.

A PLAN!

To Settle the Wabash Middle.

The Bondholders to Pay $8 a Bond for a Scheme to Relieve the Fort Wayne Line.

Lord Salisbury is After the Queen's Command to Form a British Cabinet.

THE WABASH.

A Plan for the Bondholders Proposed.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The Romaine committee of the first mortgage bondholders of the Wabash system, east of the Mississippi, have prepared an agreement which they ask the bondholders to sign. By it Frederick N. Lawrence, Benjamin F. Romaine, and Edward Oathout are appointed as a committee with power to take legal proceedings to compel the payment of interest not in default or foreclose mortgages. An assessment of $5 per bond will be levied on all bonds deposited under the agreement.

LORD SALISBURY.

He Goes for a Command to Form a Cabinet.

LONDON, July 24.—Lord Salisbury called upon Lord Hartington this morning and held an hour's conference with him. Lord Hartington promised Lord Salisbury a friendly support, but declined to join the conservative government.

Lord Salisbury at 11:30 this morning started for Osborne to receive the Queen's command to form a government.

A MISTAKE.

Senator Voorhees Will Not Resign His Seat.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A somewhat sensational story was sent out from here to an alleged newspaper at the west a few nights ago to the effect that Senator Voorhees was seriously contemplating a resignation from the senate and intended remaining in New York, where he had formed a law partnership with Colonel R. G. Ingersoll, and was to retire from public life altogether. The story really needs no denial, for it is too silly for belief, and an inquiry from the senator would have demonstrated the falsity of the rumor. There is not a word of truth in it. He has never thought of resigning from the senate and by no means has he ever entertained the thought of taking up his residence in New York. He will not leave Indiana, and if Indiana could be consulted she would not give up her honored Voorhees.

Indian Commissioner Atkins was again before the special committee of the senate this morning and was cross-examined by the chairman. The commissioner, in his replies, repeated with great frankness his avowals that he had appointed personal and political friends to traderships in some instances and believed the law gave him sole charge in the matter of appointments to traderships, being in this regard independent of either the president or secretary of the interior.

A special committee of republican senators held a caucus this morning in a room of the finance committee, to further consider the surplus resolution. No determination as to the form in which it shall be reported, if reported at all, was reached.

THE DETROITS, THE LEADING CLUB IN OUR GREAT NATIONAL GAME.

Portraits of "Deacon" White and the Rest of the "Big Four" - The Pitchers of the "Prezel" Curve and the Left Handed Pitcher.

The great interest in our national game centers this season in the Detroit (Mich.) baseball club, who now leads in the race for the championship of the National League, which includes the present champions, the Chicago, also clubs from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, St. Louis and Kansas City.

The Detroit club now consists of fourteen men, who are said to be the strongest combination of players and bestest bat-men ever brought together. This organization created considerable of a stir last fall by buying out the Buffalo club, and raising four of the best players, Brothers, White, Richardson and Rowe, now famous as the big four. Much of the success of the present nine is due to this quartet.

No player in the country is better known than Dennis Brouthers, their first baseman, who stands six feet two inches high, and weighs 207 pounds. Dennis was born at Sylvan Lake, N. Y., twenty-eight years ago. He began playing ball in 1876, with the Active of Waukegan, Ill., and in 1878 he played for the Chicago club, which disbanded in June. Then he took a dose of Hop Bitters as first baseman. That club threw up in July, and he went back to the Troys, playing the remainder of the season of 1880. Although looking a fair pitcher, he was more effective in other positions, and he gave up twirling. He signed with Brooklyn as right fielder in 1881. But May 30 left that city and went to Buffalo as left fielder, playing five games in that position. Then he took first base and kept it up to the time the "Big Four" went to Detroit.

James L. White, or "Deacon White," is a name famous in baseball history. He was born at Canton, N. Y., Dec. 9, 1848. He stands five feet eleven inches, and weighs 170 pounds. His baseball career has been checked and interesting. He first played with a club at Canton, N. Y., in 1869, and then with the Monitor club, of Corning, N. Y., in 1871. In 1873 he was with the Forest City's, of Cleveland. The following year that team became a professional club, and White played with them during the seasons of 1873, 1874, 1875 and 1876. In the centennial year he, with Spalding, Barnes and McVey, transferred themselves to Chicago, being the first big four. They staid in the Garden City that season, but returned to Boston and played in 1877. In 1878-79 the Cincinnati (League) club had his services. He took a rest during the first part of 1880, but went to Cincinnati in August and finished the season. In 1881 he joined the Buffalo club, and did great work for them until he left them for Detroit. The deacon is said to figure as a Sunday school teacher or superintendent during the winter months, but it does not seem to injure him as a ball player any.

Barding tickarison, another of the "Big Four," is as good an all-round player as there is in the country. He has filled every position in the in and outfield, besides pitching and catching. He was born in Carkboro, N. J., in 1855, is five feet eight and one-half inches high and weighs 178 pounds. His first work on the diamond was with the Gloucester City (N. J.) club, in 1875, as third base and umpire catcher. He joined the Crickets of Burlington, N. Y., in July, 1876, and played there until 1878, when he signed with the Utica (N. Y.) club and won the Clippel gold medal for best general field work. In 1879 he went to Buffalo, staying there until the exodus to Detroit.

Another of the quartet is John C. Rowe, who was born near Harrisburg, Pa., in 1857. He is five feet eight inches high, and weighs 170 pounds. He first appeared at Juncosville, W. Va., in 1877, finishing the season at Milwaukee. In 1878 he played in Peoria; in 1879 at Rockford, Ill., from there going to Buffalo, where he remained until the change to Detroit.

Sam Thompson, the right fielder, is a Hoosier by birth, and has developed most astonishing hitting ability. He is six feet two inches high, and weighs 207 pounds. He was born at Danville, Ind., in 1860, and played his first game in 1888, as first baseman with a local team. He was with the Evansville in 1884, and to Indianapolis the following season, going to Detroit in the fall, when that city purchased the former aggregation.

Charles B. Baldwin, the left-handed pitcher, first made his appearance at Grand Rapids in 1883. He did not make a success, and the following year again tried his luck at Milwaukee. He was much more effective than at Grand Rapids, and last season went to Detroit. He was born at Ormestown, N. Y., April 10, 1859. He stands five feet eleven inches in the box, and puts 170 pounds of force on every in-shoot. He contented himself with puzzling ambitious batsmen at Hastings, Mich., during the period from 1879 to 1883, but in 1884 he signed for more victims to strike out, and went to Milwaukee, where he stayed until Detroit captured him.

Charles Bennett, the leading catcher, has been before the public as a player for a decade. He was born at New Castle, Pa., and stands five feet eleven inches. He began playing with the Nesbitts, of New Castle, Pa., in 1874, and continued through to the latter part of 1876 as third baseman and catcher, when he went to Detroit and joined the Titans, at that time a semi-professional club, the rivalry between it and the Grays being intense. In 1877-78 he caught for the Milwaukee, and 1879-80 played with the Worcester League team. The Worcester people, not understanding his value allowed him to slip, and he again signed with Detroit in 1881, where he has been ever since.

Edward Hanlon, the center fielder, is noted for wondrous running capabilities. He is a very fleet base runner and a great cause of worry to catchers. He is 27 years old and is a New Englander by birth. He made his debut with the Rhode Island club, of Providence, and joined the Rochester (N. Y.) team in 1878 as third baseman. Subsequently he went to Albany, being a member of that city's famous crew in 1878. Next he joined Cleveland, in 1883, and a year later he transferred himself to Detroit.

Charles Getzlin, one of the pitchers, is a native of Chicago and is 22 years old. He first came into prominence with the Grand Rapids (Mich.) team, in 1882, playing there two years. He joined the Detroit in August, 1884, and has done good work for them since. He has great endurance, and has participated successfully in numerous double inning games. The Chicagoans describe the course of the ball from his hand to their bats as a "prezel curve."

Ganzell, the now famous catcher of the club has had a curious career. He was engaged by the Philadelphia club but was allowed to leave them on account of his incompetency. He then joined the Detroit and has since proved a phenomenal catcher. Our engravings are from photos by Tomlinson, of Detroit, and we are indebted to the Cincinnati Graphic for sketches of the men.

Thin, Languid, Dull
Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressing effects of warm weather and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength and energy.

In Berlin, says the Pall Mall Gazette, there is an association of theological students bearing the name of "Wingolites" which has for years observed the Wednesday before Ascension Day the curious custom of diving for the Emperor's destiny. The way of doing this is unique. The members of the association proceed from Berlin to the village of Pichelswerder on the Havel, and here they celebrate the anniversary of the guild at the Wilhelmshof restaurant. They immediately climb up an oak tree in the center of the garden and seat themselves upon the branches. Beer is handed up from the ground, and after the third glass has been drained the President delivers the anniversary speech, after which a cheer is given to the Emperor. Then, at the word of command, all glasses are hurled to the ground, and the notion is that the Emperor will live as many years as there are broken glasses. This year twelve glasses were broken, so that the Emperor should yet be a centenarian.

In the Dear Old Days.
We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.
